We would like to share with you the wonderful occasion that happened on 06th January 2023 at Rizvi Law College. Rose Day and Traditional Day celebrations were planned by the college. Students showcased the rich cultural history of our diverse country by arriving at the campus in traditional attire. Vibrant decorations throughout the campus created a joyous atmosphere. A standout feature of the day was the assortment of traditional dances. Students from various batches eagerly took part, showing off their skills and love for different dance styles. Due to the participants' contagious excitement, a sizable crowd gathered to support them. Cheers and clapping filled the hall as each act took place. Seeing the college community band together to support and value one another was encouraging. The distribution of roses was another lovely event that happened as the day went on. Students exchanged roses as a sign of friendship, love, and gratitude on Rose Day. The students responded in a way that was truly remarkable, with each person enthusiastically joining in the celebrations. Students were able to embrace and enjoy their cultural heritage, and the celebration also helped them feel more united and supportive of one another. It was a day full of pleasure, laughing, and a strong sense of community. The college administration was also involved in the planning of this amazing occasion.

On 27th May, 2023 Rizvi Education Society's Rizvi Law College in association with Help Yourself Foundation organised a campaign to fight against Tobacco consumption as a cause of Cancer.

Students showcased enthusiasm as they performed Nukkad Natak or Street Play in the neighbourhood areas and also near Bandra Railway Station to create awareness about the deadly effects of the consumption of tobacco. Students did community service by creating awareness about harmful effects of tobacco. In collaboration with the Help Yourself Foundation, law college students organised a compelling Street Play advocating for a "Tobacco-Free Zone: A Fight Against Cancer." Through captivating performances in public spaces, the students effectively communicated the dire consequences of tobacco use and its correlation with cancer. The street play not only aimed to raise awareness but also sought to inspire positive behavioural changes within the community. By incorporating legal perspectives on tobacco regulation, the students underscored the importance of legal measures in creating a healthier, tobacco-free environment. This collaborative effort between the law college and the Help Yourself Foundation showcased the potential of combining legal education with community engagement for the greater good, emphasising the role of legal advocacy in public health initiatives.
