Furthermore, there are Jam Sessions organized, where students can interact with professionals from various legal fields and gain valuable insights.

In addition to these events, the college conducts Trial Advocacy Competitions, which aim to develop students' skills in presenting cases before a judge. Moreover, the college offers courses on mediation and dispute resolution, equipping students with important alternative methods of resolving legal disputes. PRACTICE 2 – TRANSPARENCY IN ASSESSMENT EXAM EVALUATION

Introducing Bar-code System - In order to ensure the academic quality and enhance transparency and accountability in the evaluation process, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) played a vital role by providing recommendations for developing the Bar-code system in conducting Mumbai University's external examination [60 marks]. This system helped streamline the evaluation process by efficiently identifying and organizing answer copies, facilitating fair and standardized assessment. The IQAC also recognized the need for efficient management of mark sheet distribution and revaluation of answer sheets, which further ensured a smooth functioning of these processes.

In this context, the efforts of the IQAC in designing the internal component of the Credit Based Grading System (CBGS) have played a crucial role in ensuring academic quality, enhancing transparency, and encouraging students to develop a strong affinity for their subjects. By carefully designing the criteria and guidelines for project work and continuous assessment, the IQAC provided faculties with the necessary autonomy to select suitable methods, thereby promoting academic flexibility. This approach not only allowed students to showcase their individual strengths but also fostered a sense of teamwork and collaboration by giving them the choice to complete assignments either individually or in groups.

This culture of teamwork and collaboration not only nurtured a sense of camaraderie among students but also fostered a culture of working together and sharing knowledge. The diverse learning methods employed by the faculties within this system further ignited students' interest in the subject matter, allowing them to engage more actively and construct a deeper understanding of the topics at hand. By providing a range of learning experiences, the faculties were able to cater to the diverse learning styles and preferences of the students, ensuring a more comprehensive learning experience overall.

Furthermore, in the case of underperformance by any student, such as obtaining ATKT (below pass marks) in the University exam, Rizvi College of Law went the extra mile by conducting additional remedial lectures specifically focused on the subjects of concern. These lectures allowed students to gain a deeper understanding of the areas they needed to improve, providing them with the tools and knowledge necessary to achieve better marks. The concerned faculties also took the time to discuss individually with the students, offering personalized guidance and support tailored to their specific needs, further enhancing their chances of success.

Overall, the efforts of the IQAC and Rizvi College of Law have played a crucial role in promoting academic excellence, transparency, and accountability within the evaluation process. By implementing the Bar-code system, providing academic flexibility, fostering teamwork, and offering additional support for underperforming students, both the IQAC and the College have created an environment that values quality education, empowers students, and ensures their success in their academic journey.
