BEST PRACTICE-I

1. Title of the practice- INTERNALS PLANNING SYSTEM- EMPHASIS ON EXPERIMENTAL LEARNING

2. Objectives of the Practice:

The planning of the said internals exam is done by the faculties who tries to bring new concepts every year.

The activity aims at: Primary focus is on giving practical experience in the legal field is immensely important for several reasons:

3. The Context:

The internals examination system designed by Rizvi Law College is one of the most unique and beneficial system for student as well for the faculties. Rizvi Law College inspires students by adopting innovative approaches for their internals exams. These approaches include practical skills assessment, interdisciplinary projects, case studies and problem-based learning, open-book exams, oral examinations, peer assessment, simulation-based assessments, and reflective portfolios.

4. The Practice:

There are 25 marks allotted to the respective law colleges for conducting internal examination for each semester.

Rizvi Law College divides these 25 marks into 3 to 4 parts and conducts internal examination. Every class has different activities every semester and which is evaluated by the internal and external professors. The marks are then submitted to the university of Mumbai with utmost transparency and confidentiality

For e.g.:

1. Primeras Moot Court- 10 marks
2. Article writing and Vivas on the same - 10 marks
3. Jam Sessions - 5 marks

It is crucial to understand the significance of putting in hard work every semester and how it can benefit students in various ways, such as improving their academic performance and career prospects:

- Legal theory taught in classrooms is essential, but practical experience allows students and professionals to see how these theories are applied in real-world situations. It bridges the gap between theory and practice.
- Practical experience hones essential skills such as legal research, writing, negotiation, advocacy, and critical thinking. These skills are vital for success in the legal profession and are best learned through hands-on experience.

- Engaging in practical experiences such as arranging Lok Sabha, Client Counselling, Mock trials, Debates, Jam sessions, Article writing, Legal Pictionary, etc., allows individuals to build relationships with practicing attorneys, judges, and other legal professionals. These connections can be invaluable for career advancement and mentorship opportunities.
- Practical experience often involves exposure to various areas of law, giving individuals the opportunity to explore different practice areas and discover their interests and strengths.
- Dealing with real legal cases and clients exposes individuals to ethical dilemmas and challenges, allowing them to develop their ethical decision-making skills in a practical context
- Employers in the legal field highly value practical experience. Having relevant internships, externships, or practical placements on one's resume/CV can significantly enhance one's marketability and competitiveness in the job market.
- Practical experience provides invaluable preparation for the bar exam and eventual practice as an attorney. It allows individuals to apply legal concepts in practice, which can greatly enhance their ability to succeed on licensing exams and in their legal careers.

Overall, practical experience complements academic learning in the legal field and is crucial for the professional development and success of aspiring lawyers.

5. Evidence of Success:

1. The successful execution of these internal examination system is clearly evident from the feedback collected by the students every year.

2. Some of the activities have received appreciation and contribution from the Bar as well as Bench in following ways:

BEST PRACTICE-II

1. Title of the practice: ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMITTEES AND CELLS

2. Objectives of the Practice:

- a. Our goal is to connect what students learn in the classroom to the skills they need in their future careers.
- b. We believe in providing hands-on learning opportunities through our Committees and Cells.
- c. We aim for smooth and efficient functioning of the college and establishment of committees of cells and committees make the work easier and faster.
- d. Learning doesn't just happen in the classroom - we strive to take education beyond the walls of the school.
- e. When these young and talented students enrol in the committees and cells, they learn new things and share ideas for college development.

3. The Context:

In India, legal education's academic curriculum places greater importance on theoretical knowledge, with less attention given to practical or skill-based learning. Although doctrinal studies are significant, hands-on experience is equally essential. To prevent legal education from becoming a mere degree-collecting event, Rizvi Law College has established multiple committees and cells that enhance academic learning with practical skills and real-life applications. These committees and cells are voluntary activities led by teachers and students, allowing for maximum academic freedom and autonomy and creating a valuable learning experience. While the structured academic syllabus may provide a study plan, it may not always promote effective learning.

4. The Practice:

- a. Teachers and students are designated for the joint initiative of executing the activities of the identified Centre or a Cell. Mostly the centre or cell is instituted at the proposal of the teacher or students.
- b. The aims and objectives of the Centres or Cells are identified clearly.
- c. Activities are planned in advance for the whole year.
- d. The plan is executed in a systematic manner.
- e. Grant of funds and support of academic and physical resources.
- f. The activities are based on research orientation, community service, training focussed and activity driven.

5. Evidence of Success

Following outcomes of the activities are the evidence of its success:

- Consistently running for years and organising so many beneficial events like Moot court competitions, Lok Sabha, client counselling sessions, debate sessions etc.
- Students and Teachers participate and organise various seminars, workshops, events etc.
- Confidence posed in the quality of activities and the level of activities conducted are always promising.
- The students contribute immensely towards the development of the college under the guidance of faculties and principal sir

6. Problems encountered and resources required

- Lack of Financial Resources – All the activities of Centres and Cells at RLC are conducted without charging additional fees from the students. This consequently limits the scope of the activity.
- Availability of Limited time schedule – The large variety of activities leads to clashes of time schedules, thereby making it difficult for students to choose one over the other activity.
